

Good Afternoon Sir,

Today's classes generally went well, there were no major breaches in student conduct or in COVID-19 safety measures. Your student teacher, Kenyan Nagey ran point on the lessons today while I provided some guidance between and after class. He handled himself very well today, more details on the teaching methods he employed today can be found below.

Student Teacher Teaching Summary

Kenyan conducted himself very well today. Generally he has a good rapport with several students and clearly holds their respect.

During each of the lessons Kenyan remained very mobile, he checked in on the student's work quite regularly. When speaking to the students he provided sound advice and good descriptions to help them improve their product. He also interrupted the work session to provide the class with further assignment details as required. Kenyan was also very quick to help students who raised their hands. Kenyan also provided valuable context during video as required.

Kenyan's conclusions are a little difficult to understand because he is competing with the students getting ready for the bell and leaving. I suggested he conduct his conclusion a few minutes earlier, this should make it easier for him to get his point across.

Overall Kenyan is an exceptional student teacher who is skilled at his craft and is open to constructive criticism.

Canadian History

Kenyan opened with an introduction of the "Oka Assignment" before we started the documentary, the students were very attentive during the film. After the film finished the students formed their groups and started working on the assignment. Generally speaking the students focused quite well on the assignments. At the end of class Kenyan handed back the tests. There were no behavioral issues during this class.

Global History

Kenyan opened with a very good PowerPoint presentation for today's lesson. The students were attentive and participated well. After the break Kenyan explained the assignment very well and the students jumped right into their work. At the end of class Kenyan handed back the tests. There were no major behavioral issues during this class.
